

Williamsburg Community Health Foundation

January 11, 2013
For Immediate Release

Contact: Ross Richardson
Williamsburg Community Health Foundation
(757) 345-2614 (o)
rrichardson@wchf.com

WCHF Names Three New Board Members

WILLIAMSBURG, VA – The Williamsburg Community Health Foundation today said it has appointed three new members to its board of trustees.

Douglas J. Myers, chair of the Foundation's board, said, "These new members bring perspectives that will help us further our goals of strengthening access to quality health care and promoting responsible health practices in Greater Williamsburg."

Jeanne Zeidler, president and chief executive officer, said, "We are pleased to have these community leaders with us. They maintain the Foundation's tradition of having an exceptionally talented board."

The new board members, who will serve four-year-terms, are:

David E. Bush is Managing Director of PBMares Wealth Management LLP. He holds a bachelor of science degree in accounting from Virginia Tech. His other community involvement includes work with the Williamsburg Land Conservancy, Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Greater Williamsburg, and Hospice House and Support Care of Williamsburg.

Marshall Warner is Executive Vice President of Chesapeake Bank. He holds a bachelors degree in finance from Rider University. His work with nonprofit agencies has included involvement with the ARC of Greater Williamsburg, Colonial CASA, Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Greater Williamsburg, and the Heritage Humane Society. He also serves as

- more -

WCHF Board Members (2)

board chair for the United Way of Greater Williamsburg.

Kim Zeuli is Vice President and Community Development Officer with the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond. She holds a PhD in Applied Economics from the University of Minnesota and a bachelor of arts from Vassar College. She serves on the board of the Virginia Council of Economic Education and the Greater Richmond Area Chamber of Commerce. She volunteers at a Richmond-area food bank and Habitat for Humanity.

The Williamsburg Community Health Foundation, a private nonprofit organization, supports programs that improve the health of people living in Williamsburg and surrounding counties. It focuses on enhancing access to quality health services and promoting responsible health practices. The foundation was formed in 1996. Since then it has given more than $52 million to support community health programs in the area.

###